The Day Aliens Took My Teacher

Once upon a time, there was a great fairyland with no homework. That place was non-existent. Instead, this story takes place at North Ridge Middle School.

There once was a teacher. He would always give out homework, but one day, he was mysteriously "sick."

That's what all the teachers said anyway. Instead, I believe that he was abducted by aliens from the "Oogtarblockthor" tribe from the planet Neptune.

Though the teacher returned the next day, his voice was hoarse, thick with laryngitis. Other students said he still wasn't feeling well, but the Oogtarblockthor tribe is well known for their "voice trading" ceremony.

They must have thought his voice was quite nice, so they swapped it while he was "sick."

Many people think I'm crazy, but the clues are all there. Think about it the next time your teacher is "sick" with no voice.

GAME TIME

My uniform is on, my hair has maroon ribbons, my mind is racing. My nerves seem to be rising continuously. The District Volleyball Tournament...the most exciting but nerve-racking games of the season. We are expected to win, and I know we can if we show up and play our best! I see my other teammates and it hits me: we are ready to win. Our team walks into the coliseum: lights, cameras, and plenty of action as the volleyball courts and teams are awaiting our approach. As I look around, I realize that it's not all about the game, it is so much more. It's making friends, learning, respect, and most of all, working together to become Champions.

As our team slowly approaches the court where the opposing team is waiting, we gather in a huddle and pray for each and every one of us. When the refs blow the whistle, we all get into position. The game begins. We won the game by miles, but the second game brought our focus forward. Our team won with power. The tournament continued. Our hopes rose until finally, we were at the championship game. My nerves seemed to explode right when my foot touched the court. We won the game of our lives.

Week old salami

my teacher Mommy.
That's my normal routine
wow, this teacher's room is clean.
Oh man, another locker jam

my combination
for my exams, I must cram.
I walk along these halls,
through the chaos
and know I am
